

the 1990s, the number of people in the UK who are aged 65 and over has increased from 10.5 million to 12.5 million, and the number of people aged 75 and over has increased from 4.5 million to 6.5 million (Office of National Statistics 2000).

There is a growing awareness of the need to develop strategies to meet the needs of the ageing population. The Department of Health (1999) has published a strategy for ageing, which sets out the government's commitment to improve the lives of older people. The strategy is based on the following principles: older people should be able to live independently, safely and comfortably; older people should be able to participate in the community; and older people should be able to access the services they need.

Songs in the Key of '78

Music in the late '70's described feelings and thought that others never seemed to be able to describe. It's the same, everytime the songs are heard. Some bring reminders of special activities and special people. Special to the hearts of Tech will remain the Alma Mater.

Deep within the heart of Hammond,
Tall against the sky
Proudly stands our Alma
Mater,
As the years go by.
Holding fast to proven
values,
Changed to meet the changing times
As you serve your noble
purpose,
Honor shall be thine.

From our hearts will
gladly sing,
Tech's proud story will unfold
Long may wave her
gallant colors,
Of the brown and gold.
Guardian of skills and
and learning,
Honor and protect
Singer praise all loyal
Tigers,
Onward Hammond Tech.

Alma Mater

Music is the Background

Hammond Tech's school battle song acknowledges everyone in some way, whether it be spirit, pride, or success. The lyrics will place in memory a time in a life that identifies with the late '70's.

Go Brown and Gold

Fight for old Tech

Keep up your spirit

Drive -----back!

Rah Rah Rah!

Lets have a victory

Make every play

Help get a touchdown

Win today!

Activities bring memories

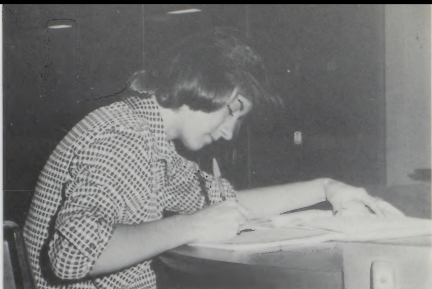

Tech students who participate in high school clubs and activities devote many hours before and after school in preparations hoping for success. Many of the fondest memories in later years will be of hours spent working at rehearsals or deadlines.

Whether there is success at all becomes less important than the fact that each knows he has tried to give his all.

Major annual activities include Homecoming, Prom and graduation ceremonies plus assemblies and special promotions by groups or clubs within the school.

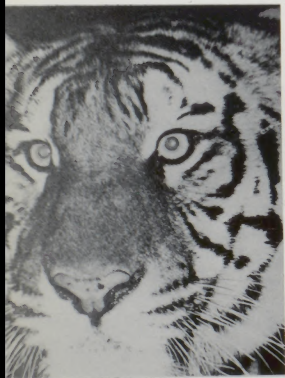

Individual determination

People... Individuals.
Doing things they like to do,
and things they don't like to do. Doing things well! What makes them different? Why are the people pictured so full of life? The answer: dedication!

They not only speak their minds, they take action. They work out their difficulties and pushes toward goals

problems, they don't run away from them! They practice until they're blue in the face.

Yes, they tire of what they're doing, but they don't surrender! The finished product comes out close to perfect. They've achieved their goal or at least tried to.

They experience growing, from day one till the end....

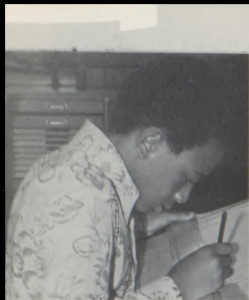

Recognition life long

Some students strive for academic achievement and others in athletics. Athletic achievement is something special, something one can look back on in later years of his life. It not only gives a pride in the school but in one's self.

Sports is a world wide interest. Some of the most famous people are related to the sports world. Sports doesn't just give recognition in school; it gives recognition where ever one goes.

Sports also gives experience in work because it gives a sense of competition which later becomes an everyday thing.

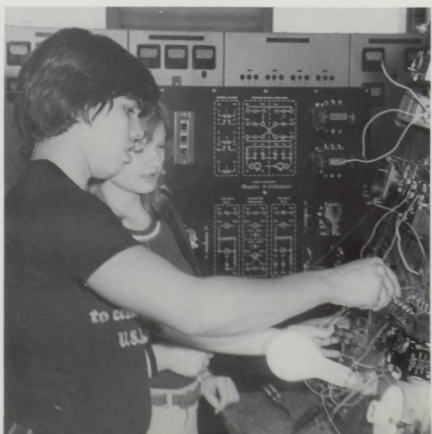

Five-year plan

As vocational education remains a growing trend in education, offerings at Hammond Tech exceed those of other schools. This year saw the acceptance and implementation of the Tech Five Year Plan, a total program for education which should update all programs for immediate acceptance into industry.

Educational activities in this plan have been broken down for updating begun

into five basic centers. These are communications, creative and performing arts, business, personal and public services, and trades and industry.

In order to accommodate more students, some shops were reduced to two-hour sections, and this year for the first time, buses were available for students from other high schools wishing to receive shop training at Tech.

Activities... Awards, banquets

With a song in their hearts, Tech students participated in the planning, and actualizing of events such as Homecoming and Prom. Drama and choral departments combined forces to produce several quality musicals throughout the year.

As the spring semester neared, departmental ban-

highlight year

quets were enjoyed by all but most especially by those students honored for excellence and the extra mile.

Faculty members gathered for friendship several times during the year, and groups like the Folksingers became regular entertainers at school functions.

Shops and Academics...

Among the rewards for being educated at a technical-vocational high school, the more outstanding is the preparation for vocational careers and on-the-job training in related fields. The wide variety of offerings also includes adequate preparation for college and many Tech graduates uphold their past training proudly by receiving outstanding honors in college.

Students choosing the technical course are challenged by courses such as physics, trigonometry, and chemistry, while others electing the vocational shop spend most of their day in training for a career which can begin upon high school graduation.

Beside these expansive programs, Tech boasts an elective area where students may receive unusual training and background in high school if their interests include drama, publications, art, or vocal music. Vocational education truly offers a more complete education.

Carpentry and Wood Shop

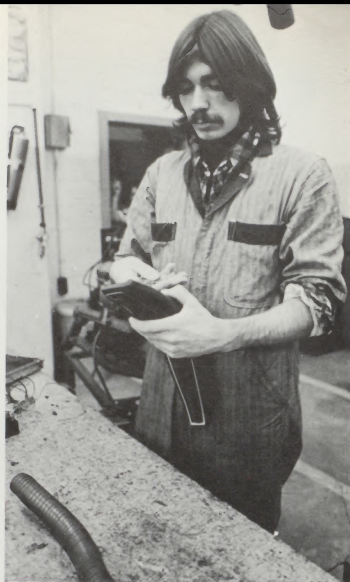

With the help of many other shops, professionals, and faculty, Carpentry shop planned, designed and built a house.

The house consisted of three bedrooms, a basement, a kitchen, and a family room.

Preparation for building was mainly based on getting land, measuring the space provided, getting materials, and supervision.

This project gave students the opportunity of knowing what it is like to build and sell a house.

Auto and Machine

In auto and machine shops, students are prepared for future jobs as mechanics and engineers. In the machine shops of Tech a student can be trained to do almost any job needed to work in one of the area's major steel mills, while students with auto shop training have found little trouble gaining work.

Welding and Metals

Welding and Metals are both money making career's. Experience is very important in getting a job. There is a test to take before getting the job, if the score is high enough you may be offered a apprenticeship. This is a very good opportunity, you get paid while learning the job and doing it.

They are subject to the same rules and regulations as the skilled tradesman. Therefore Tech offers you the chance to take a shop class in welding and metals.

Drafting and Printing

Printing is one of our most important shops offered at Tech. Whether newspaper, or magazine, printing is important in advertize-ment and publications.

From the common 1250 press to the extra-vagant Lithograph type, printing plays a major role in daily living.

Construction and designing is where other shops come in. But the mainidea is that it is to be drawn, and planned before it is to be built.

Whether a Home Economics course or a Business course, students have the opportunity to bring out individual skills. Either working in an office or managing at home. Home Economics is gaining the experience of managing a household. The business course offers the basic skills needed in the business world around us.

Pipefitting, Foundry

Pipefitting is a very exciting course. This course could lead to many money making professions such as plumbing, and industrial pipefitting. If you don't make a profession out of it, pipefitting class could become helpful around the house. Another exciting shop is Tech's foundry course, in this class you learn how to make castings, which is important for industrial use.

Job training

On the job training is truly a rewarding experience. It prepares one for the outside world. After learning the basic skills and essentials. The program offers a student high school credit while pocketing a little money on the side. A graduate will be toughened and ready to face the job market with credentials for back up which many cannot attain elsewhere.

Electives and fine arts

Students excel energy by becoming involved in various activities during and after school. These activities include year-book, newspaper, drama, vocal and instrumental performances, as well as art classes, teacher aids, and audio visual helpers.

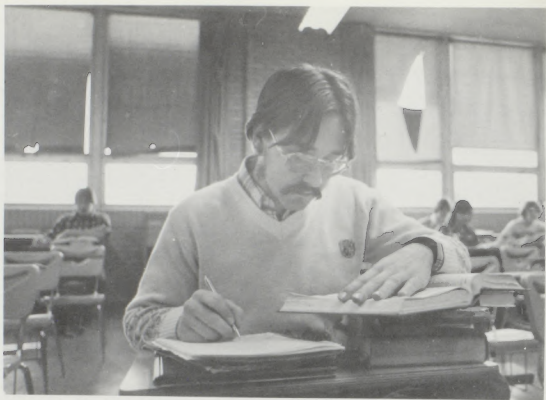

The publications classes offer basic skills in layout design and writing.

The music department offers skills in singing and playing instruments as well.

Audio visual aids in projection knowledge.

Teacher aids assist teachers in helpful tasks.

English and math, the basics . . .

English and Math are two required subjects that may not seem so important at this time but will be extremely useful as you enter the business world.

Several of our math classes are moving up with the changing world of today by experimenting with the use of calculators rather than the old methods of the past.

In the department of English they are trying new methods of public speaking on video-tapes. They are also being extremely challenging by publishing a magazine which is entitled Hear.

Sports...

Sports has become an important part of even a vocational high school. Sports also helps players not only play together toward the same goal, which is useful after graduation when many jobs demand their employers to work together.

Tech offers many different kinds of interesting sport activities, enough so that a student in athletics can remain active throughout each season. Boys can participate in football, swimming, wrestling, track, soccer, basketball, tennis, cross country, golf, and baseball.

While newly offered girls' sports include tennis, basketball, volleyball, and track.

Sports requires alot of time and energy. Students on all kinds of teams not only give up their after-school hours for practice, which for the most part are not lazy, but they give up Saturday too. Tech may not produce many winning teams but many teams can't produce what Tech can, pride.

People...

Walking through the halls of Tech there are people who look about the same, yet everyone is a distinct individual, who has their own special features and qualities. Individualism is something that each of us have, and something we should never lose.

Here at Tech individualism plays an important part in our lives. The distinct traits of every person shows up strongly in everything we do. Athletes show their will, determination and abilities. Actors, singers, musicians and artists show off their creativity, persistence and talents. No matter who they are or what they do every Tech student's individualism reflects on the spirit and strength of Tech herself.

In the pages that follow all Tech students are pictured in such a way so that their individualistic characteristics will show.

As this year comes to an end, with a lot of us going our separate ways, it's possible we will begin to sort out our lives and finish what high school started. Making the best of our high school years, is the most important point to be considered.

What we make of our high school years will reflect on our future a great deal.

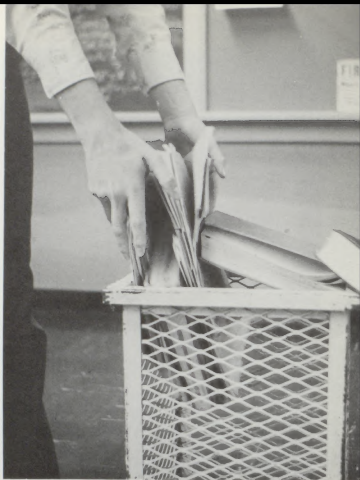

After these years have passed, you will look back on them and say, "I wish I had them and say, "I wish I had been more involved." Then you will realize that it is too late.

Now you can look back on this year and see how good it was. For some, there's always another year ahead. How good it is depends upon you. You are the biggest judge of your life in the future.

Acknowledgement.....

For the first time this year, the Chart Staff was organized in a way that we had one class period for work. Rather than the one full day with members running in and out, with pages getting confused and misplaced.

This was an aide to the yearbook staff and instructor as well as the yearbook itself. For then we had the opportunity to be together at once and have different views on changes, pictures and theme ideas.

The yearbook takes a great deal of time and effort out of every staff member in order for us to prepare a book that everyone can appreciate.

But it all couldn't have been possible without Sam's guidance and criticism. Also there are photographers who took the pictures. A special thanks to Bodie, Harry, and Tom. Yet not to forget our own Herbie Waldron, Marvin Carlton, and Scott DeGroot. But most importantly the 1978 Chart Staff who spent long and hard hours trying to recapture the year in a way that everyone can look back on and appreciate.

I hope you enjoy your yearbook, because we enjoyed putting it together for you. Thanks!

The Editor,

Lori Henson
